

Mary & Mary! Splash!

Written by Editor
Monday, 14 July 2014 15:09

Explorations in Water Media with Mary Kelly & Mary Sullivan

Two artists, both with the same first name – and frequently mistaken for one another probably due to their Irish-looking faces and Irish-sounding last names – decided to take the bull by the horns in presenting a joint exhibit of their water media art works. The exhibit, "Mary & Mary! Splash! Explorations in Water Media" will run through August 22 at the Hilton Head Public Library on Beach City Road off Hwy. 278.

On Saturday, July 26, 1 – 3 pm, the artists will demonstrate and discuss some of their techniques. They look forward to this opportunity to hear viewers' comments and questions. Light refreshments will be available.

Both artists use water-based media, but they work in diverse ways. Mary Kelly paints directly in acrylic with great exuberance. Bright colors whirl around one another, interacting and creating magical space as she uses imagination to depict forms in nature -- butterflies, waves, flowers. She will introduce her Wave and Spiral series in this show.

Mary & Mary! Splash!

Written by Editor

Monday, 14 July 2014 15:09

