"To say the photos are impressive would be an understatement, but the book is more than just photographs. Beholding Nature is an important educational book in terms of exposing the best of the Lowcountry and Southeast." - Doug Gardner, PBS Television, Wild Photo Adventures

Eric Horan is the kind of photographer known to go to extremes on occasion to get the shot. For years he used to pack a stepladder on his boat and stand on top of it while afloat to get a change of perspective. He says the stepladder's been retired, probably at the insistence of wife and partner, Jan. The search for the perfect shot and that ever-changing perspective is
