

National Association of Women Artists Exhibit at Art League Gallery

The SC chapter of National Association of Women Artists, an elite group of 47 painters, mixed media artists, sculptors and photographers, is showcasing juried member works inspired by the beauty and solitude of land and sky at Art League beginning September 9.

The artists and their works represent an eclectic mix of styles and media. From bright and bold to monochromatic and somber, from naturalistic to abstract, the pieces all celebrate our vast earth and beautiful skies.

NAWA is made up of over 800 professional women artists. Works done by NAWA members are included in

End of the World, Big Bend National Park, Texas, USA. The image shows a vast, flat, light-colored landscape, likely a salt flat, under a blue sky with scattered white clouds. In the distance, a range of low mountains is visible. A small, dark, rocky object is in the foreground on the salt flat.
