

The next show at the Beaufort Art Association (BAA) Gallery will feature the work of Lowcountry artist Susan McCarthy. The title of her show is "Isolation" and will run from Jan. 5 to Feb. 26, 2020. An artist's reception will be held at the Gallery at 913 Bay Street in Beaufort on Friday, Jan. 8, from 5 – 8 pm.

McCarthy, who moved to Beaufort nine years ago, maintains a studio at Atelier on Bay. She says her interest in art really started when she was young and lived in Pennsylvania close to Chadds Ford, the winter home of Andrew Wyeth.

In 1973, Susan and her husband Bill moved to central New Hampshire where they purchased

<https://www.susanmccarthy.com/>